Subject: Your Author Reply needed by May 8 to submit NexGen manuscript to EHP

Dear Co-Author,

The attached manuscript "Advancing the Next Generation of Risk Assessment" has undergone internal review, revision, approval, and formatting for submission to Environmental Health Perspectives (EHP). Before we can submit, we need two items from all co-authors (see below). Your response is required to be included as a co-author on the paper!

The managing editors have attempted to address everyone's comment. Although we had no disagreements with any of the comments, some comments were not fully addressed due to space limitations. Note that we ARE NOT accepting any further comments on the attached version to be submitted to EHP. We will all have an additional opportunity to comment in response to EHP reviewer comments.

Please reply to this email by May 8 (COB) and place an “X” by each item below indicating your approval to submit the manuscript as is, and that you have no COI to report. If you do not agree, please state the reason, and be willing to be removed as a co-author (if needed). If you have COI, please include that information in your reply. We will print out your email reply as a record.

1.    _X_    Place an "X" on this line if you agree that: a) you have read the manuscript and agree the work is ready for submission to a journal, and b) as a co-author you accept responsibility for your contribution to the manuscript's contents.

2.    _X_    Place an "X" on this line if you DO NOT have a conflict of interest, i.e., you do not have any actual or potential competing interests regarding the submitted article.

If you DO have any actual or potential competing interests, please provide a statement about the nature of those interests in the space below (or attached to your reply).

COI Information for enter your name :

The managing editors will compile any COI information from authors, and submit a form directly to EHP after submission of the manuscript. Attached (or at: <http://ehp.niehs.nih.gov/instructions-to-authors/> ) is additional information on EHP’s Policy on Competing Financial Interests.

On behalf of the Managing Editors of the NexGen Report, and the lead author for this EHP manuscript, Ila Cote, I thank everyone for your contributions and excellent comments during our internal review.

Thank you,

Rob DeWoskin (co-managing editor, NexGen Report)
